

Daily Devotion

Luke 6:27.28 - His Love

Welcome to Scriptures for Life with TorahFamily.org. Taking time to focus on the Father's way.

Luke 6:27 “But I tell you who hear me: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, 28 bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you.

“Do good to those who hate you, 28 bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you.”

Have you ever pondered these words of Yeshua? They're not exactly easy words to hear right? In fact, they can be down right hard words to hear. They just seem to go against our human nature. Right?

Now, think of an individual you disagree with on a particular topic to mind. Now, my point here is not how they may be treating you. My point is for you to question how you are treating them. Whether they're a believer or not a believer, you should be showing them love. That's right. Believer or unbeliever. We are to show them love.

Are you showing others love in how you treat them? Are you showing others love in how you respond to them? Doesn't matter if they're a believer or not. His Love should shine through us at all times.

Let this be a focus in your time of meditation throughout the day. Until next time, Shalom.